

Preview of Members' Show at the Latrobe art Center: April, 2019

Dear ESALites:

April will be here before we know it, so without a winter meeting, I will be sending some important information via email until our next meeting in March.

Below are important show-related dates to mark on your calendars NOW.

Entry forms mailed to me (Barb): March 18

Delivery dates: Friday, March 29, or Saturday, March 30

Public artists' awards reception: Friday, April 12

Pick-up from gallery: Weds. April 30 through Sat. May 4

A show entry form with detailed information re: times, rules, etc. will be sent out sometime near the end of February. Meanwhile, I hope you are taking advantage of these cold weather "indoor days" to create art, consider your entries, and be ready to submit two of your best pieces for this judged show, for which there will be cash prizes.

For those of you who haven't been to the Latrobe gallery recently, they have just finished upgrading and renovating, making it even more attractive than before, with new hardwood floors and upgraded lighting, among other things. Our show will be hung in the main gallery where it will be beautifully displayed. The new director, Lauren Buches, is generously honoring the fee agreements for our previous two shows there, despite having nearly doubled the fees for current groups! With all this in mind, I strongly encourage everyone's participation in order to make a showing of which all ESAL members can be proud...much like what we accomplished at Penn State, New Ken, this year!

Just FYI: Entries are not required to be "for sale;" however, I am sure the gallery would greatly appreciate the opportunity to sell some of our work in order to reap some financial benefit from their efforts and generosity on our behalf.

Wishing everyone a warm, creative winter, Barbara Jewell, coordinator
