

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

East Suburban Artists League show opening at Latrobe Art Center

East Suburban Artists League members invite you to the opening reception of their show at the newly renovated Latrobe Art Center, located at 819 Ligonier Street in Latrobe, on Saturday, April 13 from 6-8 p.m. Admission is free.

Forty-four ESAL artists from communities in Westmoreland and Allegheny Counties will showcase 80 works of original art in all types of media, styles and techniques including: paintings in oil, acrylic, watercolor and pastels; photography; drawings in ink and pencil; fine crafts in fiber and wood; mixed media; and more. Many artworks are for sale.

Diane Murray will judge the show, and present awards and her commentary at the reception. Murray is an accomplished artist and photographer from the South Hills of Pittsburgh. She is president of Whitehall Arts; sets up art classes for South Arts; is active in many local art groups including Pittsburgh Watercolor Society, Pittsburgh Pastel Artists League, South Hills Art League and McMurray Art League; and has won various awards for her work. Murray studied drawing, composition, ceramics and design at San Jose State College and has taken many workshops in watercolors, acrylics, photography, oils and pastels. She is skilled in desktop publishing and photography. In her 30+ years of teaching in Pittsburgh Public Schools, she used art to involve her students in writing and reading. Currently, she teaches and does demos in PanPastels, watercolors, and using an iPad for art.

The show runs April 3-27 and will be open Monday through Friday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Closed Sunday.
